In this presentation you will learn about the nine principles for effective vocation ministry. This overview material comes as the fruit of many years of vocations experience from members of NCDVD. Time spent implementing these principles will improve the efficacy of your ministry.

Consider this…

• Name three things you hope to gain over the next few days.
• Identify two challenges you face as you begin your new ministry.
• Name two of your gifts/strengths/abilities which will serve you well in vocation ministry.

Outcomes

At the end of this presentation you will have a deeper appreciation for:

• The leadership of your ____________.
• The primacy of ____________
• The importance of ____________ in vocation ministry.

The 9 Keys

1. The Bishop
2. Integration
3. Prayer
4. Adequate Resources
5. Formation & Training
6. Invitation
7. Events
8. The Ministry
9. Funding

Key #1: The Bishop

The Diocesan Bishop is personally involved in vocation efforts.

PPF: #32

The first responsibility for the pastoral work of promoting priestly vocations lies with the Bishop, who is called to be the first to exercise this responsibility, even though he can and must call upon many others to cooperate with him (PDV, 41). However he shares his responsibility, the pastoral task of promoting priestly vocations remains his task for which he must continue to offer supervision and direct involvement.
Key #2: Integration

The priority of vocation efforts is integrated into all aspects of diocesan life.

PPF: #17

The priesthood, along with the word of God and the sacramental signs which it serves, belongs to the constitutive elements of the Church. The ministry of the priest is entirely on behalf of the Church: it aims at promoting the exercise of the common priesthood of the entire people of God (Pastores dabo vobis, 16).

Key #3: Prayer

The faithful of the diocese are actively praying for priestly vocations before the Blessed Sacrament.

PPF: #33

Potential candidates for the priesthood must be in prayerful dialogue with God and with the Church in the discernment of their vocation. The linkage of this divine and ecclesial dialogue is especially important because “in the present context there is ... a certain tendency to view the bond between human beings and God in an individualistic and self-centered way, as if God’s call reached the individual by a direct route, without in any way passing through the community” (PDV, 37).

Vocation Ministry

It is designed to inspire parishes to get involved in vocation work, to help new ministries start strong by providing a clear guide to the nuts and bolts of the ministry, and to reinvigorate long-standing committees with fresh ideas that attract new workers to God’s vineyard.

Serra Club

Serra USA was formed in 1935. It happened when a small group of lay people in Seattle decided to form an organization to promote and foster vocations to the priesthood and consecrated religious life.

Key #4: Adequate Resources

A Vocation Director, preferably full-time, has adequate time and human resources to fulfill the needs of the diocese for vocation ministry.

PPF: #32

A diocesan vocation director may manage the diocesan process of the admission of candidates, serve as a liaison between the diocesan bishop and the seminary, and link the seminarian-candidates to the diocese and presbyterate through the placement of interns. He collaborates with the bishop, with the presbyterate, with the diocesan vocation commission if one is in place, and with the seminary.
Key #4: Adequate Resources

Assessment Questions to discuss:

• Full-Time Ministry?
• Top Priority?
• Other Duties?
• Natural Connection?
• Necessary Time?
• Necessary Support?

Key #5: Formation & Training

The Vocation Director has the proper formation and training.

PPF: #369

The fact is that God continues to call and send forth, revealing his saving plan in the historical development of the priest’s life and the life of the Church and of society. It is in this perspective that the meaning of ongoing formation emerges. Permanent formation is necessary in order to discern and follow this constant call or will of God (PDV, 70).

Key #5: Formation & Training

Key #6: Invitation

The presbyterate actively invites specific individuals to consider a vocation to the priesthood.

PPF: #32

The Bishop can rely above all on the cooperation of his presbyterate. All its priests are united to him and share his responsibility in seeking and fostering priestly vocations (PDV, 41). They do this by inviting men to consider the priesthood as a possible vocation. Often it is the example of a priest’s fervent charity which the Lord uses to sow and to bring to fruition a young man’s heart the seed of a priestly calling.

Lend Your Own Voice to Christ

Most newly ordained priests report that they first considered the priesthood upon the recommendation of a priest. However, only 30 percent of priests actually make the invitation!

Called By Name – SerraSpark.org

The Called By Name program helps dioceses identify potential vocations by asking members of parishes to recommend men and women they believe may have a call to the priesthood, diaconate, or religious life, as well as the qualities to live out that vocation.
Newman Connection

Newman Connection is focused on strengthening today’s Catholic young adults in the faith during their college years. They serve as an umbrella of support to the country’s Catholic campus ministries.

Key #7: Events

Local, experiential discernment opportunities are available for your candidates.

PPF: #34

Pastores dabo vobis offers these criteria as a basis for admission to the seminary program: “a right intention, … a sufficiently broad knowledge of the doctrine of the faith, some introduction to the methods of prayer, and behavior in conformity with Christian tradition. They should also have attitudes proper to their regions, through which they can express their effort to find God and the faith” (no. 62).

Quo Vadis Days

Quo Vadis Days is a camp for young Catholic men to learn more about the priesthood, to deepen their faith, and to better discern God’s call in their lives. It was started in the Jubilee Year of 2000 as a response to the Holy Father’s request that the Church begin “The New Evangelization”.

www.qvdays.org

Andrew Dinners

Andrew Dinners provide young men the opportunity for prayer, conversation and discussion about vocations to the priesthood and consecrated life.

Discernment Retreats

Provide opportunities for young men to come away together with the Lord in silence and solitude to listen.

Key #8: The Ministry

The diocesan vocation process of discernment, application, formation, and evaluation is clearly defined and articulated.

PPF: #40

Although this process aims primarily at determining the fitness of an applicant for a seminary program, once an applicant is admitted to a seminary program, the results of the process contribute to the seminarian’s personal agenda for priestly formation. Specifically, the observations and conclusions that emerge from the admissions process should serve as a significant resource for the seminarian’s formation within the seminary.
Elements of Process

The vocations process should include the following elements:

- Education & Promotion
- Discernment
- Application
- Formation
- Evaluation

Periodically the process should be reviewed by the key participants in the vocations process:

- Bishop
- Vocation Director
- Diocesan Seminarian Review Board/Committee

Sample Process

The process from discernment to acceptance should be deliberate and follow a general patterning of:

Inquiry: A name comes to the Vocation Director

- Immediate follow-up.
- Respond as soon as possible to the inquiry and schedule an opportunity to meet and continue the conversation.
- Create a record in the “Candidate” database.
- Begin to pray for him daily.

Prospect: The individual is considered a potential candidate

- Learn more about the candidate over coffee, lunch, etc.
- Assess “Does this man show the general skills/disposition?”
- Screen for any serious obstacles/impediments.
- Provide resources, opportunities, and information to learn and discern: To Save a Thousand Souls, Is Jesus Calling You…
- There is no pressure at this stage, invitation only.
- Invite to retreats and discernment events.

Candidate: The individual is starting to show sings of action

- Questions – from the individual and the Vocation Director.
- Serious interest, evident lifestyle, learning, willing to grow.
- Working on any concrete recommendations mentioned by the Vocation Director: daily prayer, spiritual direction, etc.
- Role shifts to more of guidance and direction, especially with needed areas of healing and overcoming fears.
- An invitation to begin the application process is initiated.

Key #9: Funding
Sufficient funding exists for the total cost of a vocation program.

PPF: #32
The whole Church through prayer, active cooperation, and the witness of living full Christian lives takes responsibility for vocations (PDV, 41).

Key #9: Funding
1. Seminarian Annual Appeal
2. A Giving Society
3. Seminary Tea
4. FUNd Raisers
5. Laboure Society: www.rescuevocations.org
